

Organizations face several challenges with regard to electronic discovery...

- Implementing the proper policies and procedures
- Achieving litigation preparedness
- Juggling various vendors
- Ensuring compliance with the Federal Rules of Civil Procedure
- Enabling Legal and IT to work together effectively

The Solution:

AccessData Professional Services can address all of your eDiscovery needs from the onset of litigation to review and production. To effectively prepare your organization to efficiently address your eDiscovery challenges, we offer comprehensive policy and procedure development, as well as in-house training.

AccessData will be with you throughout the entire eDiscovery lifecycle...

Policy and Procedure Development:

We will help you develop policies and procedures to ensure litigation preparedness and maintain compliance with the eDiscovery amendments to the FRCP.

Collection:

We offer full forensic data collection from virtually any type of device, using time- and trial-proven methodologies. All data collection activities are meticulously documented, and evidence is handled and reviewed in accordance with law enforcement methodologies and the new amendments to the federal rules of civil procedure.

Processing:

All data collected is culled, indexed and can be processed into usable formats, including native format, TIFFs, PDFs and load files.

Training:

AccessData will train management, Legal and IT departments on achieving litigation preparedness, the discovery process and pitfalls to avoid, and the role of computer forensics (evidence collection) in response to an eDiscovery request.

Hosting and Review:

All processed data can be made available for review using any popular third-party review platforms or can be hosted and made available through our own secure hosting and review capabilities.

- Secure, web-based interface
- Review your evidence from anywhere in the world
- Deal with only one vendor for entire eDiscovery process
- Receive 24/7 technical support
